From Director's Desk

The depiction of Florence Nightingale carrying a torch, symbolizes a union of dedicated nursing care, with the expansion of the horizons in healthcare, through research and innovative technologies, for the purpose of ensuring proper and systematic training. This in mind Woodlands Hospital commissioned the woodlands school and college of nursing in the year 1995. The school and college of nursing The school and college of nursing is recognized by Indian Nursing Council, New Delhi and Affiliated to West Bengal Nursing Council. Woodlands College of Nursing was started in the year 2009 and recognized by Indian Nursing Council, West Bengal Nursing Council and affiliated to The West Bengal University of Health Sciences.

The current scenario in the local, national and international level is of intense competition with equal opportunity to all. The world has advanced phenomenally in the past decade than ever before. Education which has always played an important role in the human life has gained a lot of importance in the present times because it is not only what you have but the knowledge, skills and attitude which determines an individual's success in today's World.

Woodlands believes in creating leaders and practitioners for tomorrow as well as good citizens for an emerging global world. A green campus and excellent facilities provide an appropriate environment for higher education, training, co-curricular activities and coexistence with nature.

We are all aware, with the changing scenario of Global Healthcare delivery, the Indian Nursing Council along with the state councils and Government of India is phasing out the General Nursing and Midwifery (GNM) course. In this perspective Woodlands is committed to continue Nursing education through a Woodlands Nursing School & College for General Nursing and Midwifery (GNM) and B.Sc. (Nursing) courses with 50 seats each for 3 years and 4 years duration respectively.

Woodlands vision is to provide the best of nursing education that combines continuous quality improvement, latest technology and cost effectiveness within a governmental framework of higher education. In order to provide quality care to patients and ensure utmost Patient safety continuous assessment is performed to improve student performance while rendering compassionate patient care, as per the standards adopted internationally.

From COO's Desk

The nursing profession, unlike any other is unique as it encompasses binding values, attitudes and behaviour. The underlying principle of caring and empathy still form the basis of nursing profession.

The core values that form the foundation of the nursing profession are care, commitment, and empathy. Willpower and commitment are the two most essential requirements for a nurse.

Nursing includes education, research, and promotion of health, prevention of illness, judgement and skill. Nurses work hand in hand with Doctors to develop plan of care and management of the sick, disabled and dying patients.

Woodlands School & College of nursing has been recognized over the years for offering excellence in quality of nursing education, promoting research activities and turning out intellectually enlightened, ethically committed frontline Warriors.

I take this opportunity to welcome all our future Florence Nightingales to explore the legacy and knowledge of Woodlands School & College of Nursing and look forward to a bright and successful profession and impart Quality Care to all patients.

Dr Malati Purkait
Chief Operating Officer
